Laura Schandelmeier & Stephen Clapp

Dancenow Productions, Inc.

Greetings Friends!

We wanted to let you know that we will be performing Haunted at the State of the Nation Festival in New Orleans!

Saturday, March 21, 2009 @ 8:30pm

NOCCA (New Orleans Center for Creative Arts)
2800 Chartres, New Orleans LA, 70117

This incarnation of Haunted will be a duet performance by Schandelmeier and Clapp with video from the New Orleans based Mondo Bizarro's I Witness project. Haunted at the State of the Nation Festival is made possible with funding from Alternate ROOTS and the Southern Arts Federation in partnership with ArtSpot Productions and Mondo Bizarro. For more information about Haunted at State of the Nation, visit <http://www.dancenow.org> in partnership with the Alternate ROOTS Resources for Social Change program, we will also be co-facilitating a learning exchange throughout the festival. Through this learning exchange, Alternate ROOTS and its local partners will engage with artists and cultural workers in New Orleans to exchange creative ideas, community strategies, and participate in activities aimed at building upon momentum within the community towards positive arts-based social change.

We are honored to be a part of this fantastic festival which includes several amazing performances and FREE workshops with artists from across the country. For a full schedule of festival activities, visit <http://www.sonfestival.org>

STATE OF THE NATION V

ART AND PERFORMANCE FESTIVAL | MARCH 18-22, 2009

TIPPING POINT

State of the Nation is an annual art and performance festival that brings together artists from across the United States who are committed to addressing social, political, and economic issues facing the Gulf South and the country-at-large.

This year's festival will explore the intersection of art and activism around the specific theme of a tipping point. It will feature more than 100 artists from the Gulf Coast, Baltimore, D.C., Maryland, California, Hawaii, New York and beyond.
