Laura Schandelmeier: Boxed Set

Fri., Jan. 9 and Sat., Jan. 10, 9pm. $10, call for table reservations. 21+ Five Spot, 5 S. Bank St. 215.574.0070

If you missed Laura Schandelmeier's fascinatingly bizarre production Boxed Set at the 2003 Fringe Festival, you now have a second chance to catch her onstage. Divided into two 25-minute solo pieces that explore women in today's society, Boxed showcases Schandelmeier's ability to communicate through the smallest of movements as she performs atop a 2-by-2-foot wooden box. Her small but emphatically feminine gestures are both edgy and strangely elegant--no mean feat considering she performs an entire routine with an apple in her mouth and gives birth to a miniature tea set while dressed as a bride in platform boots. (J. Cooper Robb)
